

I object to Sinclair Broadcasting's forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary right before the election. Isn't this an example of why one company should not own so many stations or other forms of media?

Aren't they using the public airwaves free of charge?
Aren't they obligated to serve the public interest?
How can this be allowed to happen without giving the other side equal time?

I appeal to your organization to do everything possible to preserve our democracy. Thank you.
